Early Life and Context

Background and Influences

David Wark Griffith was born on January 22, 1875, in La Grange, Kentucky. His early exposure to theater and literature deeply influenced his later cinematic storytelling.

The late 19th and early 20th centuries were a period of rapid technological and cultural change. The advent of motion pictures offered a new medium for mass entertainment and storytelling. Griffith entered the film industry during this transformative period, initially working as an actor and then as a director for the Biograph Company.

The Transition to Filmmaking

Griffith?s early work in short films allowed him to experiment with various techniques, but it was his innovative approach to storytelling that set him apart. His background in theater helped him adapt narrative techniques to the new visual medium, emphasizing continuity, emotional expression, and character development.

Innovations in Narrative Technique
